“ I always enjoyed the company of my grandmother. She never yelled or raised her hand at me, she always opened up her arms and embraced me. I truly believed that she would be around to watch me and my family grow because in my eyes my grandmother was a legend and legends never die. It is true... Legends don't die, even though the vessel of the soul does. Your spirit will live on forever in our lives, and as we lay our heads to rest at night I can just imagine you whispering sweet words of guidance to help us move on. Never to forget you but to help us accept the things we cannot change. I love you Grandma, may you rest in peace.
