“ We weren’t especially close, but Bradley had a real impact on me. Watching the way he built his career in insurance — the respect he earned, the way people spoke about him — quietly inspired me to follow a similar path.

He carried himself with integrity and professionalism, and even from a distance, it was clear how much people admired him. I never got the chance to tell him, but he helped shape the way I approach my work and what I want to stand for.

He may not have known the role he played in me choosing an insurance career but I’ll always be grateful he was the first that talked about insurance with me. Rest easy, cousin. You made a difference — more than you probably knew.

“ *Mr. Williams was our neighbour in Green Acres, Jamaica for many years. He was that kind of neighbour and friend who is quiet but caring. He was easy to love, smart, introverted and extroverted all at the same time. He knew how to strike a good balance. He loved his family dearly. Annie you had a great partner in life and thank God for the memories you created. He was a great dad and friend. God gives comfort and strength to the broken-hearted, he is our rock and hiding place in this difficult season. We are here for you Annie and the boys. Love,
The Jennings and Anderson family*

“ Bradley and I share maternal grandparents. My cousin was a social intellect. He loved his family dearly, and is missed.
