

Carolyn McCall-Loper

April 30, 1941 - June 20, 2025

Carolyn affectionately known as “Red” was the first-born daughter of the late Eugene and Nora S. McCall in Pompano Beach, Florida on April 30, 1941.

Carolyn’s educational pursuits began at Pompano Colored School and later graduated from Ely High School in the class of 1959, where she used her poetic skills to write a poem for the class of 1959, and the poem “Andrew The Hurricane.” She later attended Broward Community College and received an Associate’s degree in Business Administration.

As time progressed, she met and married Deacon Robert Adams, who preceded her in death in 1995.

Carolyn received Christ at an early age and joined Mt. Calvary where she was baptized and became a Deaconess. As her walk in Christ grew, she later attended Revelation Message Bible College in Jacksonville, Florida and received a Bachelor’s degree in Ministry in May of 2007

Later on in life she met and married Herbert Loper in Live Oak, Florida, he also preceded her in death.

Carolyn became an ordained Minister at the African Baptist Church under the leadership of Pastor Alex Fountain in Live Oak, Florida

Carolyn's life spoke of dedication. She was an efficient and dedicated worker. Her careers included a cashier at Georgia Grocery, bookkeeper for Davis Construction Company, and after seventeen years she retired from Allstate Life Insurance.

In her spare time, she loved singing and playing the piano. She was also the Co-Chairman for The Woman's Department at Mt. Calvary, and the Clerical and Financial Secretary for many years.
