

Elouise Goss Moore

March 23, 1938 - May 17, 2023

Elouise Goss Moore, affectionally known as "Ma Goss" was born March 23, 1938, to the late Nathaniel Goss and Susie Goss Peterson in Pompano Beach, Florida.

Elouise attended Coleman Elementary during her primary years and was a proud member of the class of 1956. Upon graduating from Blanche Ely High School, she attended Florida A and M University in Tallahassee, Florida. After a brief stay there, she moved to Boston, Massachusetts in pursuit of a degree in nursing education. The cold weather sent her back to South Florida where she remained until her death.

After returning home Elouise spent the rest of her years working in the health care field while raising her two sons, Wiley Clark and Michael Moore (deceased). She was a faithful and devoted member of the House of God, the Church of the Living God the Pillar and Ground of the Truth Without Controversy, Inc.

Proceeding her death are three loving sisters, Jewette Douglas (Hawthorne, FL), Deloris Grooms (Pompano, FL), and Dorothy Lee (Pompano, FL). The remaining to cherish and celebrate her life are her son, Wiley Clark. Two grandchildren: Keyoka and Tarik Carter of Fort Lauderdale. Five great grandchildren: Keshawn Carter, Arthour and Amarrion Bryant, Keyveon Woods and Terrell Carter. Two sisters: Carolyn Herring (Lauderhill, FL) and Sheryl Brown (Pembroke Pines, FL). In addition, eleven nephews and two nieces, a God Son, Michael, a God Daughter, Shannon Charlton, several cousins, two special friends: Monica Pryce and Shawnette Graham-Williams, and many other wonderful loving friends who were very special to her.

Ms. Elouise was always so nice to me and my family. She always called me Ms. Brigitte, and always surprised me with how well she got around "for her age". Heaven got a beautiful new resident. Rest well, Ms. Elouise and enjoy seeing your Margie.
