“Mrs. Hodge was indeed a beautiful soul and an inspiration to many. I met her at Sanders Park Elementary School. She was one of many who took it upon themselves to look out for the total education of their students. She was a “Mama Teacher” and Librarian who gave 110% to us every day. She was a Girl Scout Leader who led by example. Even when we left Sanders Park, she continued to support and guide us through our middle and high school and even college years.

She along with other strong Black women of God leaves a legacy of former students who will never forget her kindness, guidance and love for helping us become better and stronger contributors to making this world a better place for future generations just like she did for so many.

A life well lived and Angel Wings well deserved. Thank you Mrs. Gwendolyn Gardner - Hodge.

“ Everything I am today is because of my grandmother’s love, her patience, her guidance, her strength, and most of all, her obedience to God. She lived a life that reflected Proverbs 31:25 “She is clothed with strength and dignity, and she laughs without fear of the future.”

Grandma, thank you for your many sacrifices, for every prayer you whispered on my behalf, and for every lesson you taught me about faith and perseverance. From the simple moments, our Wendy’s stops and girls’ club activities to the big lessons about life and love, you showed me how to walk with God daily.

Though my heart aches with your absence, I find peace in knowing that you are resting with the Lord. As 2 Timothy 4:7 says, “I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith.” Grandma, you have finished your race well.

Your legacy of faith, love, and strength lives on in me and in all who were blessed to know you. I will honor you not just with words today, but with the way I live my life, carrying forward the lessons you taught me.

I love you, Grandma, and I thank God for the gift of your life.

“ Grandma, you used to beg us to get close to the Lord. I knew whatever happened to me in life, I could call you any time of night or day...and you would answer. I never saved your phone number in my phone, because your number is the only number I remember from childhood until now. You were so good to so many people, I learned from you how to interact with people. You showed me not to be afraid of people, and to lead with love. Nothing you did went in vain. You were the best example of what a human being should be.

“ Mrs. Hodge , thanks for being one of the first to inspire all of us young African Americans the importance of Reading. We were introduced to the library system from you at Sanders Park Elementary. Rest well knowing that you left an impact in our hearts and your community.

Grandma Hodge was the absolute BEST there is! She loved and treasured everyone especially children. She was an educator and a woman of strong faith. I loved her dearly. I'd stop by Friday after work and just talk to her about everything and nothing. She was always so warm and kind. She looked out for everyone's best interest. She made me laugh all the time. She was a blessing to humanity. -Sherida
