

Attorney Irving L. Adams, Sr.

October 2, 1935 - December 28, 2021

On December 28, 2021, Attorney Irving Leandra Adams, Sr., joined his wife, Ruth Daniels Adams, as angels watching over Irving Adams, Jr., Noveta, Joseph, Addie (Vivens), James, Samuel, Julia (Burt) and their two grandchildren Jaia Ruth & Robert.

Irving was born October 2, 1935, in Pompano Beach, Florida. He graduated Blanche Ely High School, where he was mentored by the school's namesake, Mrs. Blanche Ely. She encouraged him to use education to transform himself and his community. With those words of encouragement as the guiding principle of his life, he graduated from Florida Agricultural & Mechanical University and Harvard Law School. As his children can attest, most conversations with Attorney Irving Adams concluded with him emphasizing the transformative powers of education. In fact, if any of his children claimed they had no homework, Attorney Irving Adams would hand them a book to read and test them on it after completion. He was a lover of Miles Davis & Marvin Gaye's music; Lawrence Jacobs & Gordon Parks' art; and W.E.B DuBois & Thurgood Marshall's writings. But his first love was Ruth Daniels Adams and now, they will spend eternity together.

“ I, Addie was privileged as the daughter of Irving Adams, Sr. to learn the value of loving myself, and understanding the importance of helping others no matter my career path. I obtained a deep history of the Civil Rights Movement from my father, while he taught me how to advocate for myself. In addition, my dad emphasized the need for earning an education. The life lessons I have gained from him I diligently instill in the children that I teach in NYC. My father's legacy surely thrives in the work that I do, therefore, his memory lives on.....
