“ Cousin Betty, I'm sorry, but be ready. He is going to somehow let you know he was never a soldier but always a proud "MARINE" ... lol ... Unfortunately, reality has set in. I deeply miss mother's big brother, my dear "Uncle Stroke". He was always my biggest fan!! With every accomplishment there was a magnitude of praise and more importantly encouragement from the man, my partner in crime, my fishing buddy, my surrogate father and personal handy man. He was always willing and ready to cheer me on and pushing me to the next mile. He taught me so much about life, love and the importance of family. OMG, the talks!! He was there for my children just as he was for me and they loved every moment. I don't think I will ever find the words to properly express the level of sorrow his transition has erected in my heart and in our family. Nonetheless, in true "Stroke" fashion, we know that we are to cherish the memories. We must persevere and make the best of every moment. Living life to the fullest and relish in every experience as he would want us to. Family, I love yall. Yours truly, his "Kishbumbah"
