“ My condolences and prayers go out to the family. One memory that will always be with me is when I was a kid, Sis. McCray would stand in front of the altar at Antioch Missionary Baptist Church and sing her favorite song, “Get Away Jordan.” The Holy Spirit would be all over her and the entire church would be on their feet singing and praising the Lord. What a time, what a time, what a time!!! Those were the good ole days!

“ To my beautiful, stylish, God fearing, don't take no mess Aunt Jo,

Thank you for loving me every bit of the 39 years I knew you. You taught me throughout the years to be outspoken. To stick up for myself and for my family and friends. You taught me the importance of keeping Christ and The Most High at the center of my life. And you taught me what being an advocate for my family really meant. Thank you for protecting and raising Ma (your little sister) after Grandma Rosa Lee passed. I will never forget our conversations and all of the many, many laughs we shared. I'm going to miss you so much, but we will see each other again when it's all said and done. Take your rest Auntie and enjoy being in the very presence of The Most High. I love you always and forever. Your nephew Kham (Camp as you would always call me, lol)

My deepest condolences to the family. Coming to Antioch Missionary Baptist Church, not knowing anyone in Pompano it was a joy to meet Joann McCray, and witness her sweet spirit. We found out we were related. My grandmother and her mother were sisters, that made it more special because Joann was that sweet Spirit I needed ❤️
