

Nina Lantz

April 26, 1959 - July 26, 2024

No obituary found for this tribute.

Cemetery Details

Treasure Coast Crematory

Tribute Wall

NL

“ Natasha Lantz lit a candle in memory of Nina Lantz

natasha lantz - March 26 at 03:45 PM

NM

“ 7 files added to the tribute wall

Nicole Montgomery - September 01, 2024 at 03:10 PM

NM

“ When I first met my Momom She accepted me for who I was with my flaws, my personality, and my unwavering love for her daughter. Throughout the years we grew a bond. Most times we didn't even have to say what we were thinking we could just look at each other and know we were thinking the same thing. Her unique spirt made me feel warm and safe. She loved unconditionally and never gave up on her family she always saw the good in every single human being. She told me a story how she bought all her kids the book of gods promises. One day she randomly stopped by and brought me one. She said I was her child too. She is one of the strongest women I know even underneath all that pain she still got up every day to show up for pops, her kids and grandkids with a smile on her face. Momom didn't live an easy life with all her diagnosis throughout the years but never gave up. She has my grandmother saint sue beat lol. She demonstrated a faithful walk with the lord that brought her internal peace. She gave me hope. I've always believed but the way this women never gave on her faith after all she had been through made me want to believe even harder. We would have our days together by going to church and sitting in the car for hours afterwards just talking about life. She loved me like I was her own and I looked up to her as my own. She even designated my son Dominic as her second husband lol she always saw the good in every person. This woman never had anything bad to say about anyone. I look up to Momom in so many ways. Her faith kept her strong. Momom loved her family unconditionally. She gave her all to keep the family together. She reminded me that even if you don't believe in god or a higher power have faith. Have faith and love. Love no matter what and always forgive. She asked me to watch over her daughter and thanked me for loving her and always being there for her. I love this family as my own. The Lantz family has become more than just a friend they have become my family too.

Nicole Montgomery - September 01, 2024 at 02:36 PM

CA

“ 1 file added to the tribute wall

Candace - August 26, 2024 at 03:07 PM

CA

My deepest condolences to all the family

Candace - August 26, 2024 at 03:08 PM

NI

“ 8 files added to the tribute wall

Nina Lantz II - August 25, 2024 at 09:49 PM

EF

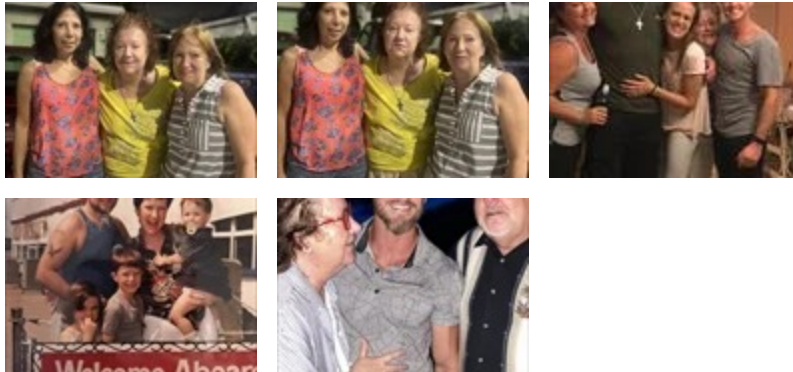

“ My deepest condolences to Jeff and the entire Lantz family for the loss of their precious Nina. I had the privilege of knowing Nina for close to 10 years. She was one of the strongest women I have met. She taught me more than she ever knew about humanity and strength. She was stoic in her pain and I was fascinated by her incredible spirit. I will never forget her. May she rest in peace and may her memory be eternal. Our thoughts and prayers are with the entire Lantz family during this difficult time.

Respectfully,
Dr. Effie

Efrosini Fotopoulos - August 20, 2024 at 11:40 PM

“ 7 files added to the tribute wall

Will Lantz - August 14, 2024 at 05:49 PM

CL

“ Thank you for your love, for your unique and angelic smile, thank you for your teachings. Thank you for being so special and loving me with another daughter. You don't know how much I'm going to miss you, but I know that God needed someone like you in heaven. I love you forever, mommy Nina 💕💕

Cani Lantz - August 14, 2024 at 03:20 PM

CL

“ Thank you for your love, for your unique and angelic smile, thank you for your teachings. Thank you for being so special and loving me with another daughter. You don't know how much I'm going to miss you, but I know that God needed someone like you in heaven. I love you forever, mommy Nina !💕💕

Cani Lantz - August 14, 2024 at 03:18 PM

“ My Mom

My mother is the one that truly believed in me. I keep that energy with me in everything I do.

My mom's heart and soul will always live inside of me, because that is how we have always lived.

A quick story my mom told me- my mom's relationship with her incredible father is very similar to what my mom and I have always had and will have. When my mom's father passed away to be with God, I was just an infant. My mom said, when she got the news. She picked me up and just held me and started to cry. A cry that is a soul cry. A cry that only happens when you lose someone physically that will never be replaced. Someone like your father or in my case. My mother. My point to this story is, we had a connection that is and will always be felt. No matter the distance. No matter aging or maturing. My mom has always been and always will be at the forefront of my mind. We had a saying that we would always say. Read from a book she would always read to me as a kid. AS LONG AS I'M LIVING, MY BABY YOU'LL BE. My momma will always be my baby. I love you, mom.

My heart is broken and I'll never be the same. My sadness runs deep. Deep to no measure. I'm sad for my dad. My dad is clearly heart broken and lost but managing day to day life as the incredibly powerful man that he is. I am here for my dad in honor of my mom. And I will always live in honor of my mom.

Momma, I'm sorry for the failure of not being with you enough. I'm sorry that I couldn't afford the best doctors to take care of you momma. I'm sorry I didn't spend every free weekend with you, in helping you rehabilitate your body. I'm sorry I didn't focus on creating a proper diet for you. I'm sorry I didn't make you laugh more. I promise you. I will take care of dad. You have taught me how precious life is mom. I will LIVE each day, in honoring you. I love you.

In closing- we cry. We are sad. We are lost and in pain. But knowing my mom. She would want you to live the way she did. The way she did before getting sick.

Travel. White water raft. Start the business. Get fit. Take care of yourself. We are all so lucky to be alive. My moms ability to do some things she wanted to do, and she never got a chance to, was taken from her because of illness.

If you're a walking and able body. There's no excuse to not live your best life. Take it. Do it. That is the best way to honor my mom.

Mom. Thank you. Thank you for the light of life you've shown me. I come from the strongest woman, ever created. I used to tell my mom all the time, when, if she would get down. She would understandably get down on her inability to do certain things. I would say-

"What the hell are you down about?" You're the 1st woman crew chief ever in the marine corps. You've created multiple successful businesses. You are DEEPLY LOVED by so many people. You have lived! Just take it easy.

Take it easy momma. I'm here. I've got this.

I love you.

God, you took my mom because it was time. I can't question why you did and I won't. Just let her be with me in my heart and soul

Will Lantz - August 14, 2024 at 02:43 PM

“ My Mom

My mother is the one that truly believed in me. I keep that energy with me in everything I do.

My mom's heart and soul will always live inside of me, because that is how we have always lived.

A quick story my mom told me- my mom's relationship with her incredible father is very similar to what my mom and I have always had and will have. When my mom's father passed away to be with God, I was just an infant. My mom said, when she got the news. She picked me up and just held me and started to cry. A cry that is a soul cry. A cry that only happens when you lose someone physically that will never be replaced. Someone like your father or in my case. My mother. My point to this story is, we had a connection that is and will always be felt. No matter the distance. No matter aging or maturing. My mom has always been and always will be at the forefront of my mind. We had a saying that we would always say. Read from a book she would always read to me as a kid. AS LONG AS I'M LIVING, MY BABY YOU'LL BE. My momma will always be my baby. I love you, mom.

My heart is broken and I'll never be the same. My sadness runs deep. Deep to no measure. I'm sad for my dad. My dad is clearly heart broken and lost but managing day to day life as the incredibly powerful man that he is. I am here for my dad in honor of my mom. And I will always live in honor of my mom.

Momma, I'm sorry for the failure of not being with you enough. I'm sorry that I couldn't afford the best doctors to take care of you momma. I'm sorry I didn't spend every free weekend with you, in helping you rehabilitate your body. I'm sorry I didn't focus on creating a proper diet for you. I'm sorry I didn't make you laugh more. I promise you. I will take care of dad. You have taught me how precious life is mom. I will LIVE each day, in honoring you. I love you.

In closing- we cry. We are sad. We are lost and in pain. But knowing my mom. She would want you to live the way she did. The way she did before getting sick.

Travel. White water raft. Start the business. Get fit. Take care of yourself. We are all so lucky to be alive. My moms ability to do some things she wanted to do, and she never got a chance to, was taken from her because of illness.

If you're a walking and able body. There's no excuse to not live your best life. Take it. Do it. That is the best way to honor my mom.

Mom. Thank you. Thank you for the light of life you've shown me. I come from the strongest woman, ever created. I used to tell my mom all the time, when, if she would get down. She would understandably get down on her inability to do certain things. I would say-

"What the hell are you down about?" You're the 1st woman crew chief ever in the marine corps. You've created multiple successful businesses. You are DEEPLY LOVED by so many people. You have lived! Just take it easy.

Take it easy momma. I'm here. I've got this.

I love you.

God, you took my mom because it was time. I can't question why you did and I won't. Just let her be with me in my heart and soul

Will Lantz - August 14, 2024 at 02:42 PM

“ Veronica Ward lit a candle in memory of Nina Lantz ”

Veronica Ward - August 14, 2024 at 09:56 AM

VW

One of my dearest and closest friends has moved into the light. As much as I know she is living in the light. Where there is complete peace. She's Out of pain. And I appreciate that for her. I know she will keep an eye on her family. Family was the most important thing to her. I will truly miss our conversations. I meet Nina in St Veronica,s. We were in second grade. Her Rosey and I were best friends. We were inseparable. We were the double dutch Champs in the school yard. Our teenage years. Well let's say they were an adventure. The boys the trouble we got ourselves into. Nina always reminded me . Balds (her nick name for her father) rescued us a few times. He always said wear a bra and gave us a dime for a phone call. Yes a dime! Nina was very close with her siblings. Always the savior... always looking out for them. She had unconditional love. We took Lazarus (her mother's nick name) to the Casinos. . Her love of casinos was born here in Atlanta City. We went to Studio 54 in NY. And got in!!!! We would be out all night. I think we were 17! We shared driving her car. Oohhh The red MG! What a cool car! I don't know if we had licences but ...once we had that car packed. Going to Wildwood the Cops pulled us over. But our friend Cindy talked our way out of a ticket . Nina always burned on the beach. We all tanned. But she didn't care. She hung in there. I remember her joining the Marines. I almost went with her. Can't remember why I didn't. But as Jeff her husband remembers. I was there in the barracks. Acting like I belonged there. We danced all night at the club. Had a ball! I saw the love bloom between them. I remember the wedding at the Bensalem apartments. I live by there now. Oh the family get together with cousin Kathy. And Sister Theresa. The things we laughed about . Nina was an entrepreneur. Her brain always working on new items or opportunities. As friends I was always the voice of reason. She was a quick thinker and didn't think about the consequences. I know I wouldn't have had the experiences I had if I didn't give in so much! It was hard when they moved to Indiana but once a year Nina appeared with her the gang. The kids and Mary and her kids. She would call and say I'm coming and that was that. I will miss my oldest friend! As I am having a difficult time with this. I know her family is grieving more. I love you Nina. I'll see you in 20-30 years and we will be 17 again!

Veronica Ward - August 14, 2024 at 10:22 AM

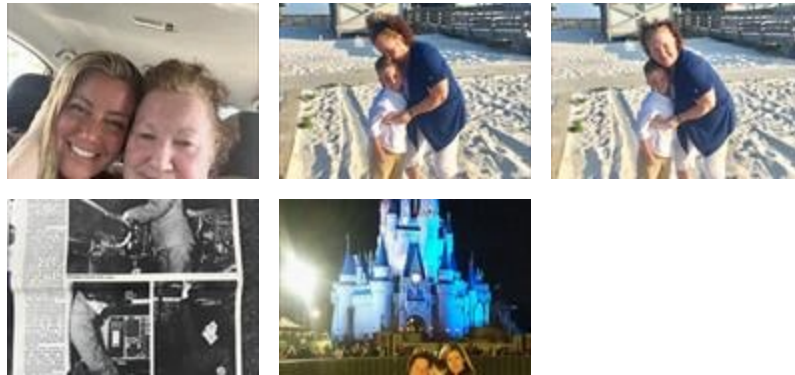

NI

I love this! Thank you, love you!

Nina Lantz II - August 14, 2024 at 01:01 PM

AK

“ 12 files added to the tribute wall

April Kline - August 14, 2024 at 01:28 AM

NI

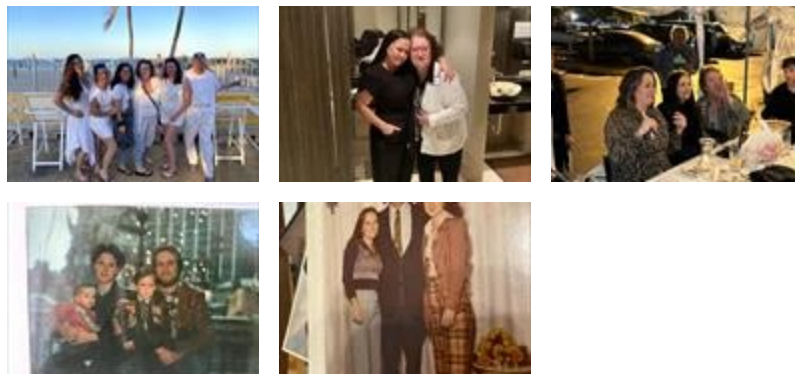

“ 1 file added to the tribute wall

Nina Lantz II - August 14, 2024 at 12:28 AM

NI

“ 13 files added to the tribute wall

Nina Lantz II - August 14, 2024 at 12:27 AM

NI

“ 13 files added to the tribute wall

Nina Lantz II - August 14, 2024 at 12:10 AM

NI

“ Nina Lantz II lit a candle in memory of Nina Lantz

Nina Lantz II - August 14, 2024 at 12:02 AM

NL

“ You were truly one of a kind. I will miss you always. Thank you for everything. I love you more than all the blades of grass, grains of sand, birds in the sky, rocks in the ground, and ants in the world.

Nina Natasha Lant - August 13, 2024 at 11:58 PM

NI

□□□

Nina Lantz II - August 14, 2024 at 12:03 AM

NI

“ 23 files added to the tribute wall

Nina Lantz II - August 13, 2024 at 11:54 PM

MM

“ Thinking of you

Molly Murdock - August 13, 2024 at 11:06 PM

NI

□□□

Nina Lantz II - August 14, 2024 at 12:03 AM